

Game Show Mania

was created by us fifteen years ago and still remains one of our most popular game show packages. This game is similar to what you might see on many of your favorite knowledge-based TV game shows, except in this case, you and your guests participate. The set consists of usually three or four (up to sixteen) player positions for contestants and has all the "bells and whistles" of a real game show, plus all the excitement and spontaneity only found in a live performance. Electronic buzz-in, score keeping, sound effects and professional game show host further enhance the fun. Games include, but are not limited to, general knowledge questions, name that song, and physical challenges. Game Show Mania corporate game shows usually include questions pertaining to your business or industry. We can also provide a quiz/trivia game show exclusively tailored to you or your company, business or organization. Game Show Mania is fast paced, exciting, and loads of fun.

Celebrity Tic-Tac-Toe is an impressive way to have fun and show off your key people. This game takes Tic-Tac-Toe to a new level. In this game the celebrities are picked by a contestant and asked a question, they answer with a funny, fake or even a correct answer and the contestant has to agree or disagree with the celebrity's answer. This show really pops! We have a "lite" version or full set depending upon your available space and budget. This really is the ultimate corporate game show!

Face-Off! is an extremely versatile game show and is the perfect choice for a wide variety of events. It works great for one person against another, or two teams competing. In addition, we've developed many other awesome ways to use it for various game applications. We can do "battle of the sexes" with men against the women or boys vs. girls. Another way to maximize interaction throughout the entire event is our exclusive interactive prize/ticket give-away. Face-Off! is also the foundation of the Fabulous Feud show. No matter how we use Face-Off!, it always elevates the event to new levels.

Fabulous Feud has two teams that compete with three, four or five members on each team. Each team tries to answer the survey questions that have been answered by one hundred people. Teams score points based on how many people came up with the same answer. This game really plays "As seen on TV". Use our time tested survey questions or give us your survey questions that pertain to your company and we will take it from there. This game rocks!

is an exciting new game of chance with one to four players. Usually when we play this game with more than one player we have the contestants represent teams which are comprised of the audience. The contestants each pick their initial star which goes into their "bank". After each of the contestants has banked their star, the next contestant picks from the remaining stars and the points within that star are shown on the screen and given or taken away (Black Hole) from the contestant. Hidden inside some of the stars are Double Bonus Stars, which double the points of that star and Black Holes, which subtract the value of the star. The excitement builds as points are added or taken away from the players, all with out-of-this-world graphics and sounds. We can add trivia or your company questions to the game play as well, which adds another dimension to the game. Once all of the stars are revealed, we show the stars from the bank; this can change everything! We have a lot of flexibility with Star Power and therefore can customize it for a wide variety of events.

The Challenge is one of our most requested game shows. You'll think you are playing one of the most popular, long running game shows on television. Choose three, four or up to sixteen player positions. With all of our game shows we have various ways to format the game. We'll add your custom categories and questions or you can choose from our many categories and questions already in the program. Each round can be short or long since we can format the board to have between three and five categories and three and five questions per category. This show is excellent for both small and large groups and is a fun, exciting way to promote teambuilding and educate.

Derby Day Horse Racing

events are fun filled video taped horse races. These are world class races with an English flair, projected on our large video screen. Everyone will see and hear the races just like the real deal, but without the risk of losing money and expense of travel. Good Times Game Show Mania will set up and coordinate the entire event, complete with sound system, music, race announcer and customized racing programs. Everyone will enjoy the excitement of the race track, selecting their favorite horse, placing their bets, cheering their horse across the finish line, while having a chance to win prizes! You don't have to know how to chart a horse's racing record or be a track veteran to have a great time. Anyone can play Derby Day Horse Racing.

Who Wants to be a Game Show Maniac

is the multi-level game that emulates Millionaire and allows you to create the questions and name the point values and prizes or use the installed questions. We can design the game just like the real show or play our unique multi-player game. This allows many more contestants to participate at a time. Imagine up to four player positions instead of just one! Any way you choose to set up the show, everyone will be impressed.

Spin to Win! will be a hit at any event. Unlike many of our other games, this one doesn't use trivia, just player positions, a wheel, and an on-screen puzzle. Contestants spin the wheel and then earn the points by guessing what consonants or vowels are in the puzzle. This is a fast moving game for three or more players at a time. Use the puzzles included in the software or we'll customize them for you. Play the game with the on-screen wheel and player scoring or we'll provide a separate wheel and player positions. With the player positions and wheel we'll create a true to life TV game show set.

Audience Response Systems

are one of the best ways to test knowledge, poll the audience, streamline voting, assist in training or just have fun in a game style format. We can combine any or all of these and captivate your audience, hold their attention, and then provide the response data in various formats that you can use for decision making, product development, goal setting, marketing and more! Whether it's a small boardroom meeting or an event with a thousand or more attendees, we have the knowledge, equipment and personnel to exceed your expectations.

Best of the Best

is an excellent way to involve the entire audience, experience all the TV Game Show excitement, and learn while having great fun.

We combine the most popular elements of the Game Show Mania package with our wireless audience response system to create a show that is engaging and fun for everyone! The competition is fierce as individuals or teams answer questions in order to be the Best of the Best at your event.

In It To Win It!

This game show is based on the popular NBC show Minute To Win It and the classic Beat The Clock. We mix custom challenges suited for your company with our favorite physical challenges and add the element of team play to a countdown scenario. Each of the challenges has a point value for completion during the designated time frame. Our custom designed software displays the name of the challenge, basic instructions, the goal, countdown clock, and tracks the teams' scores. This competitive team building event is further enhanced with our professional host, facilitators, and motivational music!
